Question
1. The system of structural Eurocodes comprises 10 Eurocodes with a total number of 58 parts. Please provide the following information related to the implementation of Eurocodes in your country:
• Number of parts or sub-parts of Eurocodes translated	58	58	58	18	49		60	51	18	58	20	53 <sup>1</sup>	Not necessary
• Number of National Annexes prepared	58	58	50	6	30		4	49	26	48	54	58	45
• Number of National Annexes translated	0	58	50	6	30		Not necessary	0	18	48	0	0	Not necessary
2. If not all the parts of the Eurocodes have already National Annexes prepared and translated, when is anticipated to be completed this process?	May 2012	completed	2012 / 2013	N.A.	N.A.	2013	2013	N.A.	2013	2013	N.A.	One missing NA <sup>2</sup>	?
3. The Eurocodes adopted as national codes and translated are going to be used independently or in combination with national codes (standards, regulations), adapted in order to not contradict with Eurocodes and to assist the designer in the use of Eurocodes. Which of the two approaches is used in your country?
- independently	x			x			x	x	x				x
- in combination		x	x		x	x				x	x	x

<sup>2</sup> by the end of 2012, we do not have any information concerning translations of NA to English language

<sup>4</sup> Eurocodes are still not compulsory. Some designers use them. A first draft of a national law is being assessed by the government in order to allow the use of the first EC set (General Rules and Rules for Concrete and Steel buildings). This draft proposes the use in parallel of national and EC regulations for a certain period, after which only the EC would be allowed.
